occhio > pro & divo_Occhio, a brand founded by lighting designer and entrepreneur Axel Meise (Axelmeiselicht) is built around a simple but ingenious idea: pivoting lamp bodies that combine with numerous interchangeable reflector heads. The result is a multifunctional fixture that enables sophisticated, professional-quality lighting solutions for both private and working environments. The evolutionary potential of the Occhio principle allows Axelmeiselicht to develop new product lines and expand the capacities of the existing ones. Introduced at this year's Light+Building fair, Occhio Pro adapts the unique system to the requirements of architectural lighting: flush-, surface- and track-mounted versions are added to the basic Occhio Puro collection (left) to create a universal tool for professional lighting design. Axelmeiselicht claims that Occhio is now capable of illuminating an entire building, be it home or office, in every possible lighting application. Furthermore, the company presented Occhio Divo (top), a product line characterized by a new aesthetical approach. The designer reinvents the crystal ball (diameter: 125 mm), giving it a most important quality, previously untypical of this classic shape — that of high lighting comfort. Eight interchangeable reflector heads make it possible to adjust the direction of light; the customer can also choose between brilliant and clear optics, or a satined surface_INFO: WWW.OCCHIO.DE
